ADR Experience

Joe Dycus retired from the United States Attorney's office in 2006 after a distinguished career to pursue a private ADR practice. As Chief of the Civil Division in the US Attorney's office he was responsible for approving settlements. He has participated in numerous settlement negotiations and settlement conferences with U.S. Magistrate Judges and mediations with private mediators. He is an approved Tennessee Supreme Court Rule 31 Mediator.

Professional Experience

Mr. Dycus was an Assistant U.S Attorney from 1977 to 2006. He left that office in the position of Chief of Civil Division, a position obtained in 1999. In that capacity he supervised the defense of all civil litigation and prosecution of all affirmative civil litigation. He had an emphasis on cases under the Federal Tort Claims Act, including automobile accidents, medical malpractices cases, slip and fall cases and other tort cases. He handled employment discrimination cases for federal agencies, as well as some affirmative action cases under the False Claims Act, and some debt collection cases. Rated AV by Martindale- Hubbell.
